

CHRIS MOONEY: PRINCETON OFFENSE

2011 NCAA Tournament—Sweet 16 vs. Kansas 3/25/2011

Offensive Plan of Attack:

- Control the tempo
- Backdoor cuts for open lay-ups
- Utilize the three point shot from all five players
- Proper spacing with precise cuts and screens

HALF-COURT OFFENSE

- 1: Kevin Anderson
- 2: Darien Brothers
- 3: Kevin Smith
- 4: Justin Harper
- 5: Dan Geriot

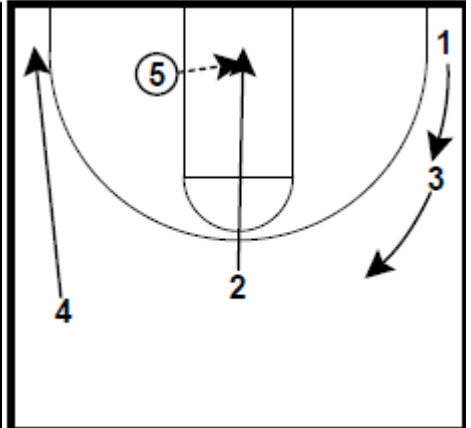

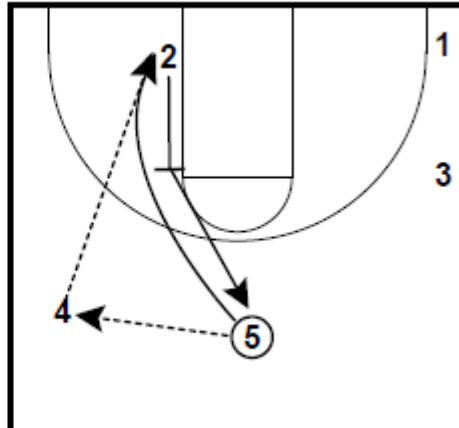

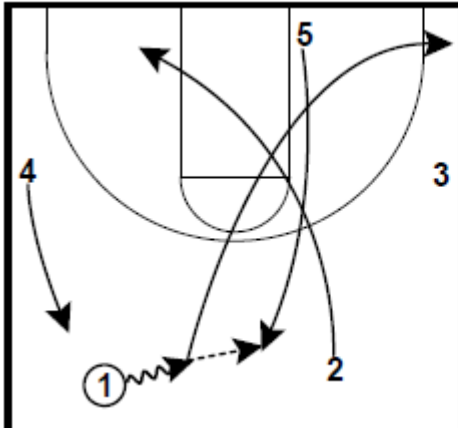

In this opening play, Richmond goes with a quick ball-side exchange and swing to Harper cutting high. As Smith hits Harper he cuts through the lane to the strongside and Geriot pops to the elbow to receive the pass from Harper. As the pass is heading to Geriot, Anderson cuts to the corner for spacing. Brothers continues the rotation and receives the quick pass from Geriot who then sets a ball-screen for him. After not turning the corner, Brothers hits Anderson and then receives a flare screen from Geriot. Anderson, now with the ball receives a ball-screen from Geriot, who then pops outside the three point line for the return three point shot.

PRINCETON UPSCREEN

- 1: Kevin Anderson
- 2: Darien Brothers
- 3: Kevin Smith
- 4: Justin Harper
- 5: Dan Geriot

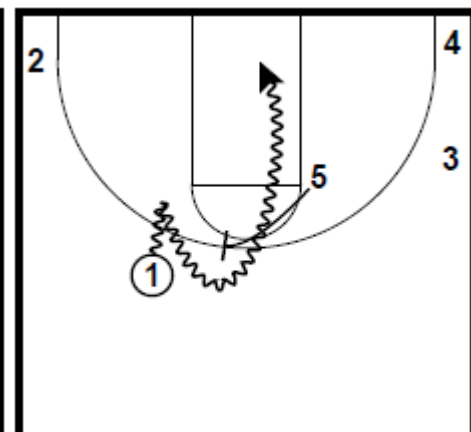

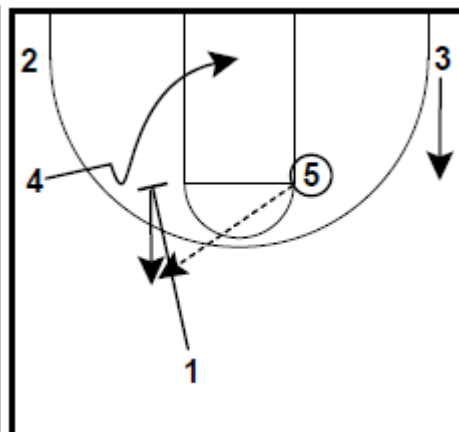

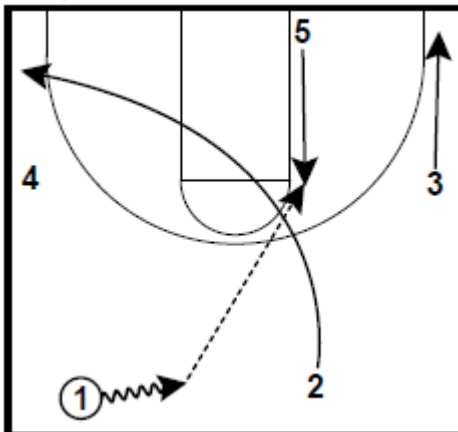

Richmond looked to get the ball inside to Geriot coming off the downscreen from Brothers. As Harper feeds Geriot he spaces to the corner and while Brothers quickly goes to the three point line, he immediately dives to the basket for a backdoor lay in

POINT SERIES: I

- 1: Kevin Anderson
- 2: Darien Brothers
- 3: Kevin Smith
- 4: Justin Harper
- 5: Dan Geriot

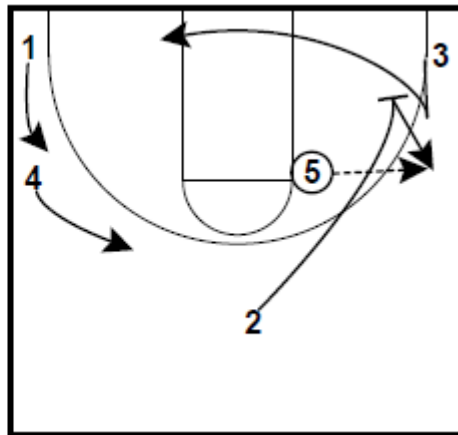

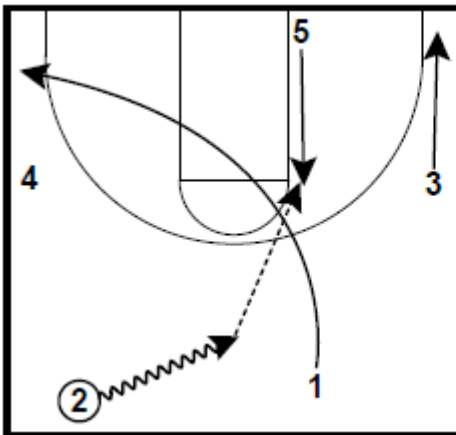

Anderson waves Brothers through and hits Geriot popping to the elbow. Anderson then sets the dummy Princeton screen for Harper, who fakes and backdoors. Kansas played it well, so Anderson then pops and receives a return pass from Geriot, who follow with a ball-screen. Anderson uses his quickness and is able to turn the corner and drive for an easy lay-up.

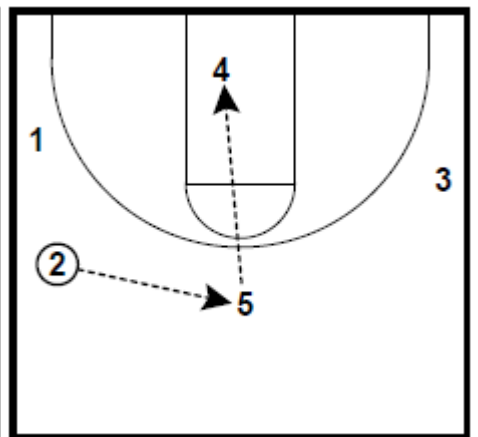

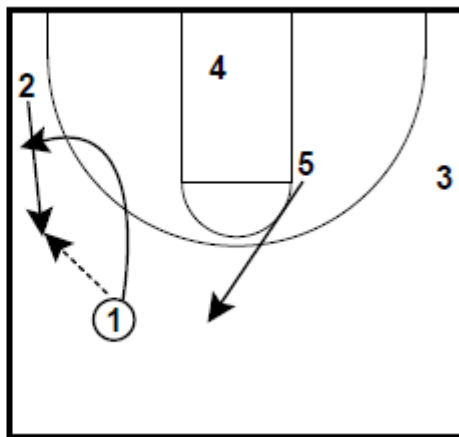

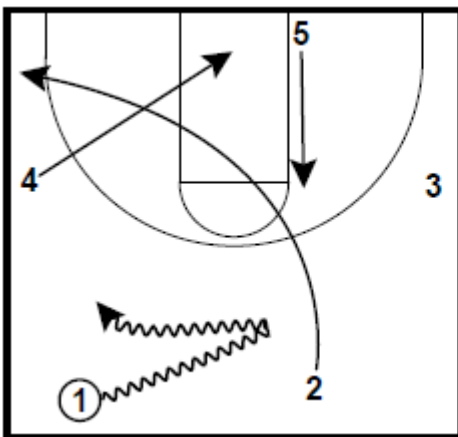

POINT SERIES: II

- 1: Kevin Anderson
- 2: Darien Brothers
- 3: Kevin Smith
- 4: Justin Harper
- 5: Dan Geriot

Brothers now brings up the ball and waves Anderson through similar to the first point action. This time Brothers goes over Geriot and sets the dummy screen for Smith in the corner. Both Brothers' and Smith's defenders go for the backdoor leaving Brother wide open for the return pass and three pointer on the wing.

POINT SERIES: III

- 1: Kevin Anderson
- 2: Darien Brothers
- 3: Kevin Smith
- 4: Justin Harper
- 5: Dan Geriot

Identical to the way the other two point plays have started, the point waves the other guard through, sending Geriot to the elbow. This time the elbow is denied. Anderson spin dribbles, signaling Harper backdoor to the post. He hits Brothers and replaces him. Brothers snaps it to Geriot who goes hi-lo to Harper in the post.
